

HINDENBURG LINE IMPERILED

POSTMASTERS OR CARRIERS SWEAR IN REGISTRARS

Special Authority Conveyed Today in Message to Governor
Frazier

NORTH DAKOTA SECOND REGIMENT SEEMS SURE

Altho Not Regarded Probable Here, Washington Says New Unit Is Asked

Authority to swear in registrars for June 5 is conferred upon every postmaster and mail carrier in North Dakota by special instructions received this morning by Governor Frazier. In a majority of the counties of the state this work already is well under way. In a majority of instances, the sheriff and his deputies, each accompanied by a notary, has visited every precinct. This plan was adopted by Sheriff French, who had four cars employed yesterday in securing the county and lining up the registrars. His list for Burleigh county now is complete and will be one of the first filed with the governor.

To Report Tomorrow
A report to the governor of the appointment of registrars and the condition of supplies—a sort of "when you're ready, fire" message—is to be made by wire by the sheriff of each county tomorrow. Today the governor has been engaged with Adjutant General Tharison in checking over supplies and making certain that everything required for the registration of North Dakota's selective service unit is at hand. The adjutant general will be given additional clerical help during the rush. Thousands of blanks are to be mailed out, and there is so much red tape connected with the registration that painstaking care must be exercised.

A number of young traveling men working out of Bismarck have already procured and filed registration cards in order that they need not be called back from their run on registration day, June 5.

Question of Dependents
An interesting question was placed before the governor and the adjutant general this morning, involving the meaning of the term "dependent" as used in connection with the draft. A Bismarck salesman advised that while he was married, his wife was not entirely dependent upon him, and expressed the opinion that under these circumstances he should not register as a man with dependents. Adjutant General Tharison assured him that his conclusions were correct; that the war department under these conditions would not regard his wife as a dependent, and that he would be subject to draft.

"A careful investigation of all such cases will be made," said the adjutant general, "and if it is found that any man's family is not clearly dependent upon him, but has other proper and good means of support, or if it is found that his affairs will not suffer from his absence, then he will be considered eligible to draft."

New Regiment
Although the enlistment of a second national guard regiment for North Dakota had not been regarded as probable at local military headquarters, dispatches from Washington this morning advise that North Dakota is to be called upon immediately for a second regiment of national guard infantry. Minnesota, North Dakota and Iowa are the only states in the Thirtieth division affected by orders issued by the war department yesterday, which call for recruiting up to full strength all existing units of the guard and the creation of new units necessary to complete the sixteen infantry divisions.

Montana, in the Twentieth division, is asked for a regiment of infantry and a squadron, less one troop, of cavalry.

INCENDIARISM CHARGED IN FOREST FIRES

St. Paul, Minn., May 23.—Members of the public safety commission gathered today in special session to consider charges that forest fires in northern Minnesota were due, in part at least, to incendiary. According to State Forester W. T. Cox, the charges have a direct relation to the war and therefore are proper subjects for investigation and action by the board. It was pointed out that the fires began after announcement of the government's plan to construct many wooden ships as a means of combatting the submarine menace. The situation in the north today is very bad, Mr. Cox said. Reports indicated many new fires and higher winds.

$150,000 Fire Wipes Gary Off Minn. Map

Village Is Completely Destroyed When Department Breaks Down

BLAZE STARTS IN BARN; TWO BUILDINGS INTACT

Crookston, Minn., May 23.—Gary, Minn., a town of 550 inhabitants, 20 miles south of Fertile on the Winnipeg branch of the Northern Pacific, was practically blotted off the map by fire Monday night. Three blocks of the business section were destroyed, only two or three buildings remaining intact in the business section at midnight. The loss is estimated at $100,000 to $150,000 by Mayor Louis Garden.

The fire started about 5 p. m. in a barn in the north part of town. It is believed boys smoking in the barn, which was owned by Mrs. Mary Cranden, set fire to the structure. Fanned by a stiff northwest wind the flames swept over the business section entirely beyond control.

Gary's fire engine broke down in the emergency and a hastily formed bucket brigade, which attempted to stay the flames with water from wells and small pools, was helpless.

PRO-GERMANISM OF COUNT TISZA FORCES CRISIS

Emperor Charles of Austria Wants to Free Vienna of Potsdam Dictation

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF HUNGARIAN PREMIER

London, May 23.—A Central News dispatch from Amsterdam says that the Hungarian cabinet, of which Count Tisza was premier, has resigned.

Count Tisza, the "iron man" of Austria-Hungary, has been for many years the leader of the pro-German party in the dual monarchy. On the accession of Emperor Charles the majority of the officials of the Tisza regime have been dismissed or have resigned. There has been persistent reports that Emperor Charles keenly resents the dominance of Berlin in Austro-Hungarian affairs and that Count Tisza was the one great obstacle which prevented him from freeing the empire from the influence of Potsdam.

HINGED ON REFORM.

Amsterdam, May 23.—A Budapest telegram received here by way of Rejlin says Premier Tisza submitted to the king's proposal for franchise reforms. The king reserved his decision, upon which will depend whether the cabinet will resign. The count, the dispatch says, is leaving for Vienna, where he will be received by the king.

Belgians Deported By Germany

Havre, May 23.—The Germans have resumed the deportation of Belgians, according to information received by the Belgian government. Three thousand are reported to have been deported from the suburbs of Brussels since the beginning of May.

The deportation of Belgians was reported to have ceased last month as a result of representations made by Pope Benedict and by protests of some German socialists. On May 14, however, the Belgian government learned that all men in the Belgian province of Luxembourg were being deported.

CROP IN TEXAS BEING GARNERED; BIGGER YIELDS

American Reaper Begins to Haul Over Winter Wheat Regions of South

HARVESTING HASTENED BY DRY WEATHER

Early Market Movement Expected Over Entire Northwest by Field Experts

Chicago, May 23.—An American reaper and binder began to hum the world's greatest note of agricultural symphony, the harvest of the crop in Texas yesterday. This information reached the grain exchange yesterday from Ft. Worth. From now on the note will swell until the crescendo of tens of thousands of such machines burst over the great granaries of Kansas, thence on through the spring wheat valleys of the Dakotas, until about the first of September when the last sheaf has been cut in the far Hudson Bay country. "The Texas harvest has started," flashed over the wires of the brokers and crop students said that never in history did such a message carry more of hope and meaning to the world, for this crop, according to leading statesmen, enters into the grand strategy of the war and into the very existence of nations.

Good Omen

The word from Texas was taken as a good omen, too, for it showed the harvest had been started three days earlier than normal, and even three days is important when the whole world is crying for wheat. Another cheering note was added to the symphony by Bernard Snow, the crop statistician, who said that Texas is expected to yield 15,000,000 bushels, or 10 per cent more than last year. Dry weather accounts for the early start.

In August Here
Mr. Snow said that indication were that the spring wheat of the Dakotas should begin to harvest by August 1. "The movement to early market should begin by June 15 and will flow in increasing volumes day by day until it reaches the maximum between the end of October and the middle of December," said Mr. Snow. "This means that the new crop laps over in point of distribution, on the old crop (that of 1916) by thirty days and supplements to that extent any deficiency in stocks held from last year."

$2.25 MINIMUM FOR 1917 WHEAT FARGO PROPOSAL

Price-Fixing Conference Expected to Adopt Resolutions Late This Afternoon

DELEGATES TO HAMMOND HEARING TO BE SELECTED

Fargo, N. D., May 23.—Resolutions fixing the minimum price for 1917 wheat at $2.25 in all probability will be adopted at the close of the price-fixing conference which opened here today. This is the opinion of J. M. Anderson, president of the Equity exchange.

A telegram received at noon from Congressman Young, who is acting in behalf of the Equity, advises that the committee on agriculture in Washington has promised to withhold action on the food bill now before that body until a delegation from the Fargo price-fixing conference can be heard.

Delegates to the Hammond hearing of the committee on agriculture on the food bill will be named today and will carry the resolution to the federal body in the shape of a petition. About 50 delegates from different farm organizations of the United States are in attendance today, and R. McKenzie, secretary of the Canadian council of agriculture at Winnipeg, is here.

ARE UNABLE TO EXPLAIN CAUSE FOR SUICIDE

Minneapolis, May 23.—Minneapolis police today were trying to clear up the mystery surrounding Carl Swirkum's attempt to commit suicide here. Swirkum, a Russian, has been unconscious since last night when he was found hanging from a bedpost in his room. He had just come to Minneapolis and had just finished writing his banker for $100. According to police, he was in good health and "a good standing." They were unable to explain his act.

HINDENBURG IS SPECTATOR OF FRENCH VICTORY

Head of Teuton Armies Sees Move Forestalled by Quick Action of Entente

BATTLE STRUGGLE FOR OBSERVATION POINTS

German System of Fortifications More Formidable Than Any Yet Encountered

On the French Fronts in France; from a Staff Correspondent of the American Press, May 23.—Von Hindenburg himself is understood to have been a spectator of the French victories yesterday on the Moronvillers range which resulted in the capture of several lines of German trenches and a number of important observation points. The German commander is known to have been just northward of this section on Sunday. His presence is supposed to have been in connection with an attack on the French line, which the Germans intended to deliver on Tuesday morning.

The French forestalled them and after demolishing German machine gun nests, and other defenses with artillery, launched an assault which was so brilliantly successful that more than 1,000 Germans were captured. At the same time the French obtained elbow room at the ridge for future operations.

Struggle for Points.

As outlined by the correspondent today the operation in this region developed into a "struggle for observation points," possession of which is indispensable under present conditions of warfare. On their forward drive on the Moronvillers range the French captured all these positions dominating the surrounding territory. From them they are able to watch the movement of German supply columns and reinforcements, and thus (Continued on Page Three)

ITALIAN WAR MISSION AT WASHINGTON

Joffre and Viviani Arrive in France—Departure is Kept Secret

Washington, May 23.—With the arrival here today of the Italian war mission, headed by his royal highness Ferdinand of Savoia, prince of Undine, conferences with American officials over war problems are to begin after the visitors have been formally received by President Wilson.

The conferences will have to do principally with obtaining railway equipment, coal and iron and steel. It is likely also that another loan will be welcomed by Italy. Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, is another member of the mission.

The Italian mission was received by high American officials and escorted by troops of cavalry. The visitors were taken to the house of Joseph Leiter, which will be their home while in Washington. They were received enthusiastically by crowds at the railway station.

ARRIVE IN FRANCE.

Paris, May 23.—Marshal Joffre and former Premier Viviani arrived at Breteuil last night on their return from the United States.

KEPT A SECRET.

Washington, May 23.—The French mission sailed from New York on May 15, unknown except to a few officials, and many American newspapers, which loyally kept the secret, so the distinguished guests of the nation might not be unnecessarily endangered by the German submarines.

Wilson Wants Press Censor

Washington, May 23.—President Wilson today renewed his efforts to put an enforced newspaper censorship section into the espionage bill. Senators Overman, Fletcher and Nelson, the senate conferees on the bill, were called to the white house early today and urged by the president to agree to a censorship section which the senate once has rejected.

Bismarck's Patriotism Will Be Measured by Support Given Local Red Cross Organization

Here is the Red Cross personal appeal: "But we will not ask you for money alone—we are making this personal appeal to you for more than money. We want your interest in the great work of the AMERICAN RED CROSS through its Bismarck chapter. We want you to become a member of this chapter so that the nation may know that we in Bismarck have not lagged behind the other cities which are contributing so generously to the RED CROSS."

"The roll is being called. Let us act quickly, that we may answer proudly. Let the strength of our RED CROSS chapter measure Bismarck's patriotism. Membership is unrestricted."

SEND TROOPS AT ONCE TO AID OF FRANCE

Marshall Joffre and General Petain Want Men Trained or Untrained Immediately

FACILITIES FOR INTENSIVE INSTRUCTION IN EUROPE

By GILSON GARDNER.

Washington, May 23.—Get American soldiers in France. That is the message Marshal Joffre is emphasizing daily in Washington. It has been cabled also by Gen. Petain, now in supreme command of French operations, who begs that volunteers, men, officers and equipment be sent immediately, so a large army may be in France within three months.

Gen. Petain promises the men intensive training in France. They will not be thrown at once into battle. At many places the battle front is "quiet," and less trained troops will be given early duty helping on the quiet sections.

This will relieve French troops for more active work. It is urged that volunteers be permitted to go and serve temporarily with French officers and troops. These men, Petain suggests, would get training which would enable them to train other men arriving from the United States. Officers would be given courses at the St. Cyr Military school.

France feels the great need is for men, trained or untrained, at once. If the plan of our general staff is followed and this country waits to raise, equip and train a large army before beginning to get the men across the ocean, the help may come too late.

The shipping problem is another insistent reason why this government should not wait to add a large, perfectly trained army.

By the time an army of a half million men is ready with equipment and commissary there will be no ships to carry it.

It is not possible to transport a half million men, even in normal times, without enormous special shipping equipment and much time.

In the present disorganized condition of shipping, with every vessel menaced by increasing submarine danger, it would be practically impossible.

The only way American fighters can help the allies is to begin at once "trickling" men into France. Every freighter should carry a few fighting men; every passenger ship should add to its passenger list a quota of officers and men going to France for training and subsequent organization into an American army.

Even in this way, assuming that a start is made at once, it will be many months before anything like a half million men are on the western front. This is the reason for sending volunteers, such as the Roosevelt division. Volunteers can be had for this service more quickly than men selected under the selective service act. The volunteer could be on his way within 30 days.

The selective service army must be held together, organized, officered and equipped, and will be found doubtless in the United States still drilling when snow flies. France has passed the maximum of her man strength. Men and still more men are needed in France to push back the German legions. The fight is being won, but at a terrible cost in men to both sides. The weakening of the Russian front permits Germans to double their strength on the western lines, which makes doubly insistent the need for more men from America.

If this country is to strike an effective blow in the war it must strike a quick one. The only way to strike a quick one is to begin "trickling" men to the fighting lines.

FRAZIER ASKS STATE TO NOTE LIBERTY WEEK

Governor Co-Operating With Federal Reserve Bank in Floating Bonds

BIG DRIVE WILL BEGIN WITH SUNDAY SERMONS

The cooperation of the entire state in the observance of Liberty Loan week, beginning Sunday, May 27, with sermons in all of the churches of North Dakota, is asked by Governor Frazier in a proclamation issued late this afternoon.

Governor Frazier has given the executive committee for North Dakota his fullest support in its efforts to line up this state for its share of the big Liberty Loan. With his predecessor, L. B. Hanna, chairman of the committee, he joins in urging that the pastors of the churches of every denomination address their parishioners at either the morning or evening service May 27 upon the Liberty bonds and the necessity for the people loyally subscribing to this loan in order that the government may have proper financial support in the great undertaking upon which it has entered.

Pastors from whom the executive committee already has heard have expressed a willingness to feature the Liberty Loan in their Sunday sermons and have approved of the plan of making May 27 Liberty Sunday in North Dakota.

May Carry Any Amount

The treasury department at Washington has ruled that a national bank may carry any amount of United States government bonds, and that, regardless of the amount they may carry, it shall not be considered an over-loan. The executive committee took the matter up with the state examiner J. R. Waters this week and received his assurance that state banks may buy United States bonds in any amount that the condition of their banks may warrant and that, regardless of the amount bought, it shall not be considered an over-loan.

If he will wait for extradition proceedings.

"Nothing has been said to me regarding the extradition of President Pennington," said Governor Frazier this afternoon. "All that I have learned about the case is what I have seen in the papers."

SECOND PHASE OF BATTLE ON; ALLIES LEAD

Efforts of Germans to Stem Entente Offensive Fail Completely on West Front

CROP OF PEACE RUMORS FROM SWITZERLAND

Central Powers Consent to Recognize Rights of Spain in Territorial Waters

(By Associated Press.)
Evidences accumulate that General Petain is preparing another drive on the Aisne and Champagne fronts.

Monday brilliant attacks won for the French all the important observation posts in the Moronvillers region in the Champagne, and last evening a similar operation was carried out in the Craonne region, where everyone of the observation points in the Ailette valley are now in French possession.

The vantage ground thus won will give the French the needed opportunity to prepare for their next drive. Heavy strokes driven at the localities where the preliminary operations were undertaken by the French would imperil the whole Rheims sector.

The second phase of the great battle of the Aisne, the Aisne and Champagne, has ended in the complete German failure of the most determined and costly efforts to stem the tide of victory now setting against them. The net result of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's efforts to regain the initiative has been that the French and British have tightened their grip on his line and have placed in great peril the key positions held by the Germans in northern France.

Line Outfanked.
The customary lull, which separates all major operations in modern warfare, has now come and the expectation is that it will be broken by a British blow on a great scale against the Drocourt-Queant line, already practically outfanked.

In the meantime, the usual crop of peace rumors, which marked these lulls, has made its appearance. Reports from all sources, official, semi-official, inspired and the like, tell of offers of Austria to Russia, and Germany to Russia, and Germany to the collective Entente powers. The unnamed diplomats who apparently infest Switzerland are unusually active, but there is nothing tangible or authentic to show what these reports are worth.

The latest Spanish crisis has subsided with the receipt by Madrid from Berlin of the note which Premier Prieto announces as satisfactory. Germany promises to respect Spain's rights in her territorial waters.

COUNTER ATTACKS.

London, May 23.—Last night the enemy again heavily bombarded our position on the Hindenburg line near Bullecourt," says today's official statement. "Our artillery replied vigorously. No hostile attacks developed. "We made a successful raid early today southeast of Gavrele. A number of Germans were killed without any casualties among our troops."

SUCCESSFUL ATTACKS.

Paris, May 23.—Successful attacks were made by the French last night on three parts of the front the war office announces. The attacks were made on the Aisne front. In the region of the Californie plateau the French captured observation points dominating the Ailette valley. Progress was made on the northern slope of the heights east of Chevreux.

"Price She Paid" One
Of Most Absorbing
Stories of Screen

One of the most absorbing stories ever projected upon the screen is "The Price She Paid," in which the popular Selznick-Pictures star, Clara Kimball Young, will be seen at the Municipal Auditorium tonight and tomorrow. This story, by David Graham Phillips, deals with the problems of a young woman who finds herself practically penniless. It is not merely a few isolated dramatic incidents, but goes into the details of the life of the heroine, Mildred Gower, and her efforts to achieve independence and save her own self-respect. She marries for money, and finds herself little more than a slave. With the aid of a former suitor she studies for an operative career and again meets with many disappointments. At length she learns that there is no royal road to success, and giving up all her habits of ease and luxury, plunges into a Spartan routine, and by sheer determination finally wins. It is discovered that she has not been legally married, as the husband who left had a wife still living, and so she is free to make her life what she chooses. Miss Young has not, in a long time, had a role which affords such opportunity for beautiful costuming, and her charm of personality is revealed as it seldom has been in any of her work for the screen. The director of "The Price She Paid" is Charles Glynn, a new member of the Selznick forces, who has many successes to his credit.

FORT SNELLING FINE CAMP AND MATERIAL GOOD

Major Frank S. Henry Pleased
Training School

NORTH DAKOTA'S QUOTA INCLUDES TRAINED VETS

That Fort Snelling is a fine camp and the material which is being manufactured into officers there the very best is the opinion of Major Frank S. Henry, who returned yesterday from a several days' visit at the big training school, where 2,000 embryo commanders are being put through their paces.

North Dakota's quota in particular—and the state has a few more men at camp than it is really entitled to—makes a splendid showing, states Major Henry. Many of the Flickertail candidates are veterans of the Philippine campaign or are non-coms who saw service in the Mexican campaign and who took their discharge on returning home. The latter have been pressed into service drilling awkward squads, and they are having the time of their lives ordering around bank presidents, railroad chiefs and the busy sons of the idle rich.

Major Henry saw George H. Russ, Jr., during his stay. Mr. Russ finds camp life strenuous, but exhilarating. Out at 5:30 a. m. and on the double quick jump every moment until 9 p. m. Major-to-be Russ hasn't as much time as he would like to give to considering the financial problems of his country, but he's feeling fit and eating everything in sight.

Need Officers.
The regular army, after assimilating all of the West Pointers eligible and moving up all its lieutenants, still will be short 153 captains, said Major Henry today. "as well as lieutenants for all the posts vacated in manufacturing new captains. Many of these officers will come from the reserve."

"Class A men in North Dakota who did not get in this first camp undoubtedly will be called for the second camp to begin August 15. Between six and seven thousand applications were received for this first camp, and when the second is organized, the qualified men who could not be taken on the first call will be given the preference."

What They Pay.
Major Henry is of the opinion that all of the men in training at Fort Snelling will receive the proposed $300 per month for the ninety days in camp. From this will be deducted fifty cents per day for subsistence and the cost of uniforms and equipment.

Colonel Sage, commander, served side by side with the North Dakota volunteers in the Philippines. Major Henry found him a most efficient and likable officer, who is establishing a fine morale among his men.

FIRE LADDIES TO HAVE BIG MEETING AT VALLEY CITY

Prominent Men Will Address
State Firemen in Annual Convention in June

PAST PRESIDENT ROBESON ASSISTS WITH PROGRAM

Plans mapped out here today by Secretary H. L. Reade and Past President F. C. Robeson of Cando assure the North Dakota Volunteer Firemen's association the biggest meeting in the history of the organization at Valley City on June 12, 13 and 14. There had been some discussion of cancelling the annual meeting because of war conditions, but a majority of the departments opposed this action, and the convention will be held according to schedule. Mr. Robeson, who served as president of the association last year, and who has had much experience in drawing up programs for annual conventions of the organization, came to Bismarck today at the invitation of Fire Marshal Reade to assist him with this detail.

Not Fun Only.
The firemen will not congregate at Valley City merely for a good time. The program which is being worked out constitutes a firemen's institute, which will bring out approved methods of fire fighting and demonstrations of modern fire equipment. Alexander Carr of Jamestown will talk on "Co-operation Between the Firemen and the City Officials." Arthur M. Seelof of Fargo, northwestern agent for a well known fire extinguisher manufacturer, will give a demonstration and an illustrated address; and Harry Wilbur of Fargo has prepared an interesting paper.

Manufacturers of fire fighting apparatus from the twin cities, Chicago and other points will have large exhibits, and there will be the usual amusement features and carnival attractions to provide relaxation.

SUIT IS STARTED.
Judge Amidon is hearing the suit of the Todd Land company against the city of Bismarck, et al., to restrain paying operations in District No. 2. MAKES LARGER, WHITER, SWEETER LOAVES, AND ELIMINATES FAILURES

HO-MAYDE HAS REVOLUTIONIZED BREAD MAKING, THOUSANDS OF WOMEN TESTIFY

Absolutely dependable results in bread making are now possible under all conditions, by the use of Ho-Mayde, a Bread Improver which has been ignored by women living in all sections of the United States and Canada. The Bread Improver not only eliminates all possible chance of failures on Bake Day, but makes larger, whiter and sweeter loaves. "Ho-Mayde is an absolutely pure and wholesome product, which accelerates the yeast action and shortens the time of bread making to a considerable extent," said C. I. Chapin, general manager of the Ho-Mayde Products Co. of Detroit. "It also imparts wonderful keeping qualities to the bread which does not dry out so quickly. The loaves are not only whiter, as a result of using Ho-Mayde, but are much larger. In fact, housewives have found that Ho-Mayde makes an extra loaf with the same baking materials."

"The Ho-Mayde Products Co., which is sending sample packages of Ho-Mayde to all women upon request, has received endorsements of the Bread Improver from several women's magazines whose editors have carefully investigated Ho-Mayde. Teachers of Domestic Science have commended the Bread Improver. It has been asserted that Ho-Mayde will play a prominent part in reviving bread making which, for the average woman, is almost a lost art."

Diagram showing the working of the "creeping barrage" under cover of which British troops in France are now taking German trenches. Note the advancing infantry is preceded by a moving "curtain" of artillery fire. Staff Special.

London, May 23.—British attacks in France are revolutionizing war methods. Artillery and infantry are being coordinated as never before.

Most novel new tactic is the "creeping barrage." This is a curtain of artillery fire that, timed to the second, precedes a wave of infantry as it sweeps out of the British and toward the German trenches.

Cannons in the rear are ordered to start firing at a given time and to elevate the line of fire slightly at a given rate.

Infantry in the front lines are told to leave their trenches at a given time, exactly, and move toward the German lines.

When the infantry start shells from their own artillery are bursting just in front of them, and as they advance, the shells keep bursting always the same distance in front.

At the same time other shells are bursting in the German trenches, making it impossible for their occupants to advance and causing many casualties.

At the instant the trench fire and the advancing "curtain" of fire meet, the cannonading of the German trenches ceases and the British pour into them, killing the survivors who refuse to surrender.

Then the British having taken the trench, begin to prepare it for defense against the German cannonade which they expect to follow as soon as German officers discover the trenches have changed hands.

harrass them, making precarious the German hold of the Rheims plains.

The system of fortifications encountered by the French in their advance was more formidable than any they have met before that time, but the clever fire of their artillery was able to overcome the resistance. Thus they accomplished a victory at only one-fifth the cost to the Germans.

MANN FOR BONDS INSTEAD OF TAX

Attitude of Republican 'Leader' in House Cheered by His Associates

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Republican Leader Mann aroused applause of the Republicans in the last hours of debate on the $1,800,000,000 war tax bill declaring he would vote against the measure.

Mr. Mann declared bond issues or supplementary issues should raise the greater part of the war tax revenues.

After a brief session, the conferees were unable to agree even to the extent of considering a compromise session, and adjourned the conference until Friday.

the price of tax went up, and the company was compelled to make good the difference, which amounted, it claims, to a considerable sum. The case was tried by jury at the December term, and a verdict was found for the Burlington county man.

Paving Man Here.—W. B. Warren of Warren Bros., Boston, owners of the bituthic patent processes, was in the city yesterday, inspecting the work being done in District No. 1 by Hanlon & Oles. Mr. Warren is paying similar visits to Great Falls, Fargo, Denver, Salt Lake, Boise and other cities where bituthic paving is under way.

Dymond Twice Pinched. Harry Dymond, representing a local enterprise, is thoroughly aware at the writing of Secretary of State Hall's determination to enforce the automobile registration laws. Mr. Dymond drove to McClusky yesterday to make a delivery. He had barely reached the Sheridan county seat when he was arrested because his car sported no license tag. Haled before a justice, Harry coughed up five, and then begged permission to drive to the cemetery, tagless, to deliver a monument. The judge allowed it might be all right, and the Bismarck man proceeded to the city of the dead. And on his way back he fell in with the state's attorney of Sheridan and after a little discussion contributed another five spot to the good of popular education in North Dakota.

ORRIS W. ROBERTS,
 Meteorologist

America has proved that it is practicable to elevate the mass of mankind—that portion which in Europe is called the laboring, or lower, class—to raise them to self-respect, to make them competent to act a part in the great right and great duty of self-government; and she has proved that this may be done by education and the diffusion of knowledge. She holds out an example a thousand times more encouraging than ever was presented before, to those nint-tenths of the human race who are born without hereditary fortune or hereditary rank.—Daniel Webster.

THAT RATE INCREASE.

Congress passed an eight-hour wage bill which imposed additional burdens upon the carriers. The roads after a series of conferences, and in face of a great national crisis, acquiesced.

The additional income to meet this and other expenses incident to increased cost of handling business, must be met by a horizontal raise in interstate and intrastate rates. Corporation baiting has been such a favorite diversion for years, that many systems are in the hands of receivers and net incomes in other instances have been so reduced that railroad stocks and bonds fail to attract the investor as they once did. The selling price in all business must at least cover costs and yield a reasonable profit. Railroads are entitled to a fair return on the investment. It is essential and vital to the development of North Dakota, that the carriers, which serve this state, be given sufficient income to at least cover the increased cost of doing business.

Railroad construction in North Dakota has been at a standstill for years. There has been no money available to build needed extensions. The issue resolves itself into this: "Does the United States want any Railroads?"

BUSINESS AS USUAL.

Says Frank Vanderlip, one of New York's biggest bankers and member of the labor committee of the council of national defense's advisory committee: "Business men should get rid of any foolish ideas that war will bring on a general paralysis of trade."

There is little wisdom in trying to convince business that the people are not going to economize. They are. There is unimpeachable evidence of it on every hand, as the business man can see for himself, but the general economizing does not necessarily mean general business paralysis. It all depends upon whether the people hoard or cut off luxuries. Hoarding is miserliness and always means low down depression and morale. There is no present evidence in banks or elsewhere of a popular tendency to hoard. There is plenty of evidence that the spirit of investment is taking a sleeta, and the reason lies to a great extent in the fact that nobody knows what his overhead expenses—taxes—are to be. Now the government's billions in bonds offer unprecedented opportunity for popular investment and are an antidote to the tendency to hoard. Moreover the government itself is going to make enormous investment. It is going to make and buy billions of dollars worth of war goods—goods practically new in their manufacturing industry. This means business readjustment, not general paralysis. The country will have more money and more jobs than ever before. Paralysis under such conditions would be an anomaly in the world's economic history.

A RESPECTABLE FRUIT.

It has been suggested that the day for joking about the prune has gone. The prune has come into its own. The prune is a respectable fruit now days.

The foods that used to lord it over the prune on the boarding house table every now and then have gone so high in price that the prune is one of the few foods still within reach of the masses. It is the good old standby—and was unto him who twits his best friend.

A NATION IN UNITY.

President Wilson has put much in to a few words.

"It is not an army that we must shape and train for war, it is a nation. There is the whole logic and purpose of selective service. In his proclamation fixing June 5 as the day for registration for selective service the president has summed in the situation most admirably. Continuing, he says:

"To this end our people must draw close in one compact front against a common foe. But this cannot be if each pursues a private purpose."

The President sees clearly that the energies of every American must be shaped to make the nation a unit against autocracy—against the common enemy. Private aims and objects must not conflict with the national purpose; private greed must not conflict with the common good; private wishes must not conflict with our national effectiveness in war.

Everything has got to give way in the face of our determination to win this war for world liberty.

"The whole nation must be a team in which each man shall play the part for which he is best fitted," the President tells us.

He is right. Team play is what we must have. We don't want any backstops trying to play centerfield, or any pitchers loafing on the bench when they're needed on the mound.

We want team play. Team play is the real American way of playing.

But there is this about team play and our need of it that must be understood: Team play is had when the team works together under a leader. Team play is never had when every member of the team tries to run the team. We have got to shape and train the nation for this war; team play will do it and give the world a wonderful example of American effectiveness. And so every American must sink his little private inclinations, his little private hobbies, and his little private desire to profit at national expense.

Again, to quote from the President: "It is a new thing in our history and a landmark in our progress."

Let this be America aroused, a nation in unity!

Welcome into the European water, Japan! A mikado mixes the crowd a little more, but democracy rather implies a mixture.

WITH THE EDITORS

RED-CROSS WAR COUNCIL.

(Washington Post)

Altruists of all sorts and professional charity workers unquestionably have a secure place in the world. They are needed. Their unflagging industry has kept many a worthy project alive when if it was left to busier men and women it would have languished and died.

The work that confronts the Red Cross, however, in the present world war is plainly a business man's job. It calls for organization and executive action that would tax the skill of the ablest captain of industry in the country.

As a neutral nation the greatest contribution made by the United States to the European belligerents was in the activities of the doctors, surgeons, nurses and ambulance drivers. They were visible evidence of the fact that America was alive to the opportunities for service.

With this country actively engaged in the war the task becomes infinitely bigger and more difficult. The United States is now the ally of all the nations fighting against German autocracy. The soldiers of the allies must be served as though they were our soldiers and our noncombatants. And so, our own soldiers will be there on the front, many of them needing the ministrations of the Red Cross.

There will be a call for more hospital units, for millions of dollars' worth of supplies, for an expert business and financial organization that will make the Red Cross a centralized agency for all relief work, directed with military efficiency. The Red Cross war council, established by President Wilson, fills all the needs of the situation. The men picked for this small, compact council are ideally fitted for the task. It is doubtful whether a better man could have been found anywhere in the country for the chairmanship of the council than Henry P. Davison, and his colleagues, Edward N. Hurley, Charles D. Norton, Grayson M. P. Murphy and Cornelius N. Bliss, Jr., are men who have proved their ability to organize and administer on a great scale.

STREET CAR RAILS TO BE SHIPPED THURSDAY FROM CHATTANOOGA

The rebuilding of the capital street railway in the business district at an early date was assured this morning by the receipt by the board of control of a message from State Architect Sam Crabbe, at Chattanooga, stating that he had inspected and accepted a lot of used seven-inch rails at that point, and that the steel, which had been found satisfactory, would be loaded for Bismarck tomorrow.

These rails are of the standard type used in connection with paving in all larger cities. They will be hurried through to Bismarck by fast freight and laid with as little delay as possible. The street railway, it is anticipated, will be ready for paving before Hanlon & Oles complete the other work in the downtown district.

LEGAL LIGHTS AT BISMARCK.
 State's Attorney Burgeson, City Attorney H. J. Blanchard and Senator L. A. Simpson went to Bismarck the latter part of last week looking after some legal business in the supreme court, and also in Judge Nuesse's court. Senator Simpson returned home Sunday, but Messrs. Burgeson and Blanchard had other business matters to attend to at Fargo and other points east. These gentlemen were accompanied by L. Tobias, who also had business matters to attend to at Bismarck.

EXCELLENT LECTURE.
 David Goldstein of Boston, Mass., lecturing under the auspices of the Dickinson council of the Knights of Columbus, was listened to by a packed house Friday evening at the Elks' auditorium. Mr. Goldstein was formerly a Jew and an agitator in the Socialist movement, and at his lecture Friday night he explained the reason why he deserted the Socialist movement and joined the Catholic church. He is an excellent speaker and his talk was very much appreciated.

STATUTORY CHARGE.
 M. P. Olson, a switchman at the local Northern Pacific yards, was placed under arrest last week upon the complaint of a young girl. Mike Mack, inspector of trains on the night shift at the yards, heard the girl's screams for help, and when Olson caught sight of Mack coming he released the girl, who went to her home. The attack took place in the local freight yards. Olson is now out of jail on bail, and is also out of a job.

BABY PARADE SATURDAY.
 Baby week ended with a splendid parade around the business section of the city Saturday afternoon. There were a large number of babies in the parade, accompanied by their mothers. The parade was headed by a young lady dressed as Columbia, accompanied by Uncle Sam. Then came several little girls dressed as mothers, pushing doll carts. Boy Scouts and little boys and girls dressed as Indians were also seen in the parade. Special attention was paid to several little fellows pulling an old Indian camp wagon, in which there was a little maiden dressed as an Indian chieftain's daughter.

FORMER DICKINSONIAN

KILLED AT BILLINGS

Karl Flohr, formerly of Dickinson, and up to last winter a resident of the Lefor district, was killed at Billings, Mont., last week, according to information reaching Dickinson. It seems that Flohr was arrested on some minor charge by a Billings policeman, and in trying to escape the clutches of the law he was shot in the back and instantly killed. Flohr leaves a wife and several small children to mourn his untimely death. The family expecting to come back to Stark county to live with their relatives here.

Albert Wangler, the south side druggist, and W. Whitaker, chef at the Grill cafe, left Tuesday for the hot springs near Helena, Mont. They intend to stay at the springs for about two or three weeks.

APPOINT ASSESSOR.

The board of county commissioners of Stark county appointed J. J. Simons as assessor of the second commissioners' district in place of F. J. Mayer, resigned. Mr. Mayer was elected at the last election, but moved out of the county this spring.

OLD TIMER RETURNS.

Charles Clemmons, formerly of Dickinson, now a resident of Sioux City, Ia., arrived at Dickinson this week in his Ford car, making the trip from Iowa. Mr. Clemmons said he got

Your Own Garden

BY A GARDNER.

There is going to be big demand for beans this fall and winter. The boys in our army and navy will need thousands of bushels of them. You can help them get their share from the bean farms by raising your own beans.

Beans are nutritious, and can be put away in cans or dried for winter use.

Now is the time to plant them. We waited this long to be sure of frostless nights after the sprouts come out of the ground, for beans cannot stand cold weather.

Beans are easy to grow, require less fertilization than many other garden vegetables, and bear well.

While pole beans take more room in the garden than dwarf varieties they bear more profusely, and in the end pay better. If you have space plant both.

Plant the poles first, about three feet apart. Then plant 8 or 10 seeds two inches deep near each pole. When they come up thin to four.

Six hills of pole beans will supply a small family and one planting will be enough.

See that you get the stringless variety of seed. There are several kinds of stringless beans.

Plant short rows of a dwarf shell bean a week or so apart so they will not all mature at the same time.

Lima beans must be forced to get the best crop. Start them now in paper pots, or in inverted sod in the hotbed or cold frame and put into the garden in June. If they grow too rank after transplanting cut off tops of vines, which will force the beans. Bush limas are a little earlier than the pole variety, but less prolific. Beans need careful cultivation—hoeing, but don't hoe them while water is on the leaves, or in the early morning when dew is on the vines. Bean leaves are sensitive to the touch when wet.

CAPITOL NOTES

NEW CORPORATIONS.

New corporations of the day are: The Farmers' State bank of Lunds Valley, $15,000 capital; Edward S. Lee, Minot; Anna Lee, Minot, and Verne Wells, Crosby, directors. St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, San Pederson, John Matlinstad and Arndt Roe, directors. North States Land & Loan Co., Fargo; capital, $15,000; directors, William F. Johnson, M. H. Forness and L. B. Mathelson.

JUDGMENT FOR PLAINTIFF.

A jury in the United States district court late last evening awarded McGray & Tyneson of Garrison a judgment for $715 against the Bismarck Elevator & Investment company. The grading gives a quantity of barley shipped by the Garrison firm to Bismarck, was the point at issue.

NEW SOO SERVICE.

The state railway commission is meeting at Sanish today to consider petitions for daily passenger service in lieu of the mixed train now operated by the Soo between Sanish and Max. A complete change in the method of operating the north Soo may result, as a train running from Drake to Sanish and connecting with a Bismarck turn-around at Max has been suggested.

SCREENINGS AT $250.

F. C. Robeson of Grand tells this one. A Cando farmer drove in with a load of grain. "The elevator man sized it up casually and said $2.50. Mr. Farmer accepted the offer and began unloading. "Say," said the elevator man, picking up a handful of chaff, "wouldn't it have been better to run this through a fanning mill?" "It's been through a cleaner," said the farmer. "This is the screenings," and the elevator man stuck to his bargain.

INSPECTING MARMARTH.

State Fire Marshal H. L. Reade is home from Marmarth, where he inspected Marmarth's progress with clean-up week, the installation of new water works and electric light plant. "The Marmarth people are doing a splendid job," he said. "The crops in the southwestern part of the state are in excellent condition. Mr. Reade reports. Mile after mile of fields are being plowed, seeded or already green, with crops line both sides of the track. The acreage, he predicts, will be many times the largest in the history of the state.

EXAMINING PROVIDENT.

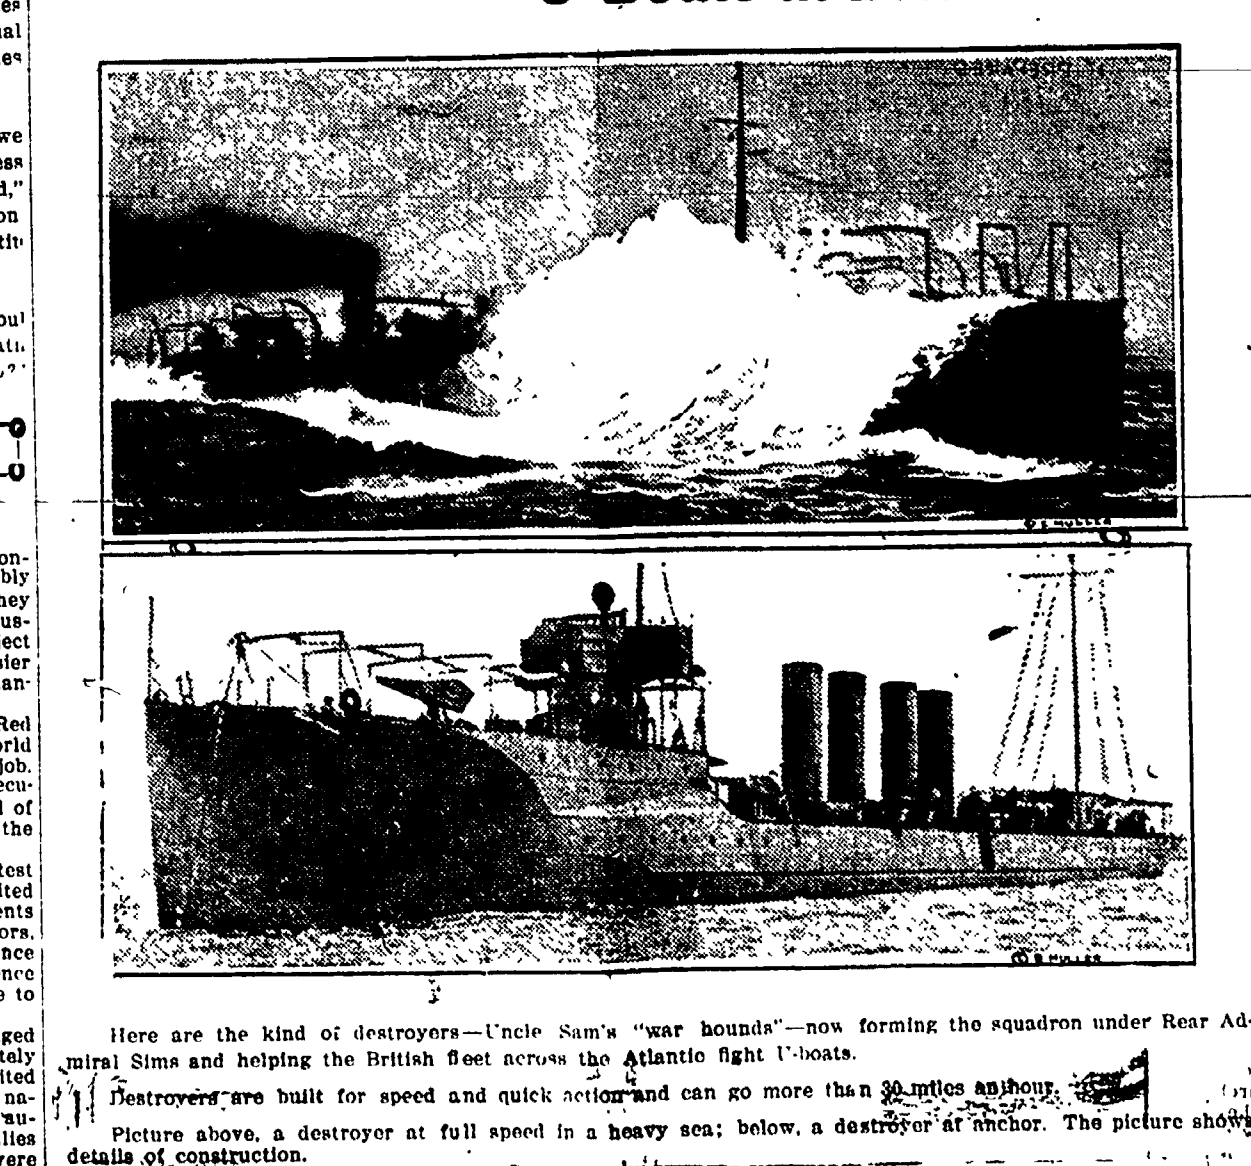

The examination of the Provident Life Insurance company of Bismarck, which plans to enter the South Dakota field, was begun this morning by Examiner Barton of the South Dakota insurance commission, and Deputy W. D. Austin of the North Dakota commission. This is a formality prescribed by law, a procedure similar to that followed when the Pioneer life was consolidated with the Lincoln Life of Indiana.

"THE DARLING OF PARIS"

Miss Theda Bara was asked the question not long since if she was not at some time going to be married. She replied, saying that she had never given the subject any particular thought. "To tell the truth," she said, "I have never had time to think of anything other than my professional work. I have tried to give all my energy and skill to the work demanded by the public, and they are hard task-masters. One has so many people to please, and it is impossible to please all of them, so I will have to be content if I can only please a part of them, and this I hope I have done."

"I do not say that I never will marry, but I say I will not. I might have to consult with William Fox, my manager, before I could engage upon an enterprise of this kind, even did I contemplate doing so, which I do not at this time."

Uncle Sam's War-Hounds Fighting U-Boats in British Waters

Here are the kind of destroyers—Uncle Sam's "war hounds"—now forming the squadron under Rear Admiral Sims and helping the British fleet across the Atlantic fight U-boats.

"Sincerely yours,
"Mrs. Frank White,

Country Club Activities to Give Place to Red Cross Work

Women of the capital city country club will dispense of social activities this season and will sew for the Red Cross. A meeting of the women of the club will be held shortly to make definite plans for active Red Cross work at the club house. Committees will be appointed at that time to carry on the work.

Owing to the crisis which confronts the country, the club house will not be formally opened Memorial day as has been the custom. It will take place at a later date. The service feature at the club will open Saturday next.

The golf grounds were never in better shape and although the spring has been backward many have taken advantage of the course. Sunday is his day for the men. The year books will be completed by June 1, and all applications for membership should be in the hands of the secretary by that time.

POPULAR PATTERN FOR SPORTS SKIRT

By Betty Brown.

New York, May 23.—Fashion courts will be made gay this summer with the brilliant colors and huge patterned cottons and wash silks which go to the making of the most popular sports-skirts. When such striking fabrics are employed, separate skirts are necessarily cut on very simple lines.

In many instances the skirt is merely shirred beneath a crushed girdle, while the pockets are shirred and applied at the hip line.

Wash satin, albatross, Georgette and other silks rival cotton skirts for sports as well as general utility wear.

taffeta and Georgette crepe with gold trimmings. A color scheme of pink and white was used, roses and carnations being the blooms. A wedding dinner supplemented the service and the table held a centerpiece of carnations. The bride is a former class mate of Mrs. Lowth and for the last year taught in the Burleigh county schools. Mr. Martin and his bride left for Lucas where they will visit his parents. They will reside on a farm near Moffit.

QUITE DIFFERENT.

Tomorrow afternoon the Folsom Jewelry store will cater to the ladies of Bismarck and near by towns only. This afternoon was set aside, at the request of many ladies, who desire an opportunity to attend this big auction sale, but find it most embarrassing to be present and bid against the men. The offerings are many and the values good.

Probabilities Are That More Than

Required Amount Will Be

Subscribed

Bismarck's big Y. M. C. A. drive for a $1,200 war fund is nearing a close with indications that far more than the maximum originally set will have been subscribed before Saturday night. All teams will report Saturday night, when a meeting of the general committee will be held. The returns will be canvassed Monday, and a complete report with the names of all patrons published.

Judge W. L. Nuesse and Tax Commissioner H. H. Steele yesterday visited Wilton, where an excellent response was met with. Similar reports come from teams which made other nearby towns in the city proper the subscriptions have universally been larger than anticipated.

In order that people who wish to donate small sums may have an opportunity to do so, subscriptions in any sum will be received at Finney's drug store, and there combined in $10 units.

Light Frost Nips Garden Truck Only

With the mercury down to 31 last night, the Missouri valley suffered a light frost, which nipped city gardens a trifle, and may have done some little damage in the lowlands, but on the plateau left crops unscathed.

"There is so much moisture on the surface of the ground that no frost formed," said the United States branch weather bureau for North Dakota today. "City gardens which suffered were those which had been watered the evening before." Where the ground was dry there was no frost. In the bottom lands along the river crops may have been pipped very slightly, but no real damage was done anywhere.

May 23 is late, but not unusual, for a killing frost. The average killer in this region comes about May 17, but hard frosts as late as Memorial day have been reported.

Sugar & Flour on Cash Basis

After June first we will have to go to a cash basis on sugar and flour as the wholesale houses want cash for sugar and are slow letting us have it even then.

And the amount of money required to carry flour and sugar is so great that the banks do not care to grant the loan for this purpose.

But the amount required from each individual is not heavy so we must go to a cash basis on these two articles June first.

We can not say whether there will be much change in price on these lines within the next 30 days or not, but we hope there will not be an advance but fear the decline will be slight.

There is serious talk of all lines of groceries being spot cash soon and the merchants are believing that it is their only safe course. It takes so much capital now to buy goods and the wholesale houses are refusing long credit so it must come to a cash basis soon or a decline in prices and a decline is not probable to any great extent until after the close of the war.

WHAT OF THE MINORS? WILL THEY BE ABLE TO WEATHER WAR STORM

By PAUL PURMAN

What of the minors? Will they be able to weather the storm of this tumultuous season? Is the present agitation in the American association merely a preface to a wholesale revolution in minor league baseball? The minor league situation is one which will bear a lot of study.

Few minor league clubs make much money. Many are supported by small town business men for the advertising they get out of a team. Active co-operation between men and the minor league magnates is all that keep dozens of clubs operating during the season.

The minor league baseball situation is becoming grayer every year. Every season more leagues are disbanded than new ones are formed.

Membership in the National Association of Professional Baseball clubs fell from 49 leagues in 1913 to 25 in 1917, 22 of which finished the season. And of the 22 leagues which finished there was not an average of two clubs per league which finished the season with a profit.

The first cry of wolf from the minors this year comes from the American association, one of the largest and most prosperous of the minors. Club owners declare that unless players agree to accept salary cuts the clubs must suspend for the season.

President Hickey has called off the proposed post-season series between winning clubs of the association and international league on account of hard times on his circuit.

If the American association cannot get through without such measures how about the class A, B and C leagues?

How about the Western league, in which last year only one club made money, and that not the winner.

How about the Three-I or the Central?

Conditions in these leagues are similar to those of most in their classes. Minor league magnates are worried and rightly.

If business men fail to lend their support many of these clubs must suffer and as they have already suffered they cannot stand much more.

Superficially it appears that the only thing that will save the minors this year is complete co-operation of the business men in the cities where clubs hold franchises, combined with lower salary limits and the eradication of baseball passes.

40,000 Future Funston's Being Whipped Into Shape to Lead You and Your Friends in Freedom's Fight

Men of Officers Reserve Corps Are Regular Fellows, and Working to Beat the Band, Correspondent Finds at Largest Camp.

By Leon Starmont

Staff Correspondence.

Fort Snelling, Minn., May 23.—I am breaking butterless bread today with 2000 future Funstons.

I am looking over the chaps you and I will have to salute when we answer the selective service call.

Forty thousand in all are being broken in, in various parts of the country and 1000 OF THIS 40,000 WILL BE WEARING SOLDIERS' STRAPS WITHIN A MONTH.

There's the keenest competition going on to be among the first thousand—at odds of 39 to 1.

This camp is typical of the 12 others scattered over the country.

There are "single camps" at Sackett Harbor, N. Y.; Fort Niagara, near Buffalo; Fort Myer, Virginia; Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; which is near Chattanooga; Fort McPherson, at Atlanta; Fort Roots, at Little Rock, Ark.; Fort Snelling, near St. Paul; Fort Riley near Junction City, Kas.; Leon Springs, close to San Antonio, Texas; and the Presidio of San Francisco.

Uncle Sam doesn't think thirteen camps make an unlucky number.

There's wealth as well as crudition among those present. I saw today the son of a North Dakota nabob helping an overland negro tote a mortarboard; and the scion of a hotel family that charges 10 cents for butter ate bread today without any butter—as did 2000 others.

Few tents are up; the men are housed in permanent barracks or in "cantonnments"—long wooden sheds. One section of the military reservation is all cantonnments under construction. Take away the green grass and it would look like Columbus, N. M., did, shortly after the Villa raid.

The rat-tat-tat of hammers can hardly be distinguished from the bang-bang of rifles on the target range.

Lads who used to rise lazily at 7 or 7:30 now spring out of their cots at the first blast of the 5:30 bugle.

All day they march and drill and study and sweat and perspiration is just as sticky under the Minnesota sun as it is down by the Rio Grande.

I saw one man collapse from the heat. Standing at attention, he fell forward suddenly, without bending, and the four students nearest picked him up. Nobody else paid any attention. They got used to little things like that.

A quarter of the rookies have not received complete uniforms; a sprinkling of civilian clothes in the drilling ranks shows this.

The men drill as privates in the army do; they've got to learn to be soldiers before they can be officers. They carry rifles and wear bayonets. Khaki columns are tramping along nearby roads in the early forenoon.

"When in doubt, salute" is a camp motto; students will salute almost anybody they don't know until they learn to tell an honest-to-goodness officer when they see one.

No evidence of snobbishness or cad-dishness crops out. $10,000-a-year men fraternize with ex-regulars fresh from the factory.

Eighty per cent of the Minnesota men and a somewhat smaller proportion of the others are college students or graduates.

Pathetic Drama Enacted in Burleigh County District Court Yesterday

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IS ASKED FOR BY PARENT

Tears streamed down the cheeks of Hanna Beckwold of Minneapolis as she sat in district court yesterday afternoon and saw her baby, grown to be a beautiful little blue-eyed, golden-haired girl of three, caress another woman whom she called mother, while she looked upon her natural parent as a stranger.

When the baby came Hanna did not know what to do with her. She was easily persuaded to leave her in a "home." She was asked to sign a paper, her attorney told, Judge Nuessle.

She could not read and write, and when she asked that the contents be read to her she was advised that it was a mere formality. That paper was an assignment of all her interests in the child to the Minneapolis home in which it was placed.

A few months later, substantial farmer folk of Burleigh county found in Hanna's rolipoly little baby the light which had been denied their home.

Mother Love Dawns

Fortune smiled on affina Beckwold. She learned to read and write her adopted tongue. Her earnings increased, and with bettered circumstances came a yearning for the little form she had clasped to her breast for such a brief time. When she went to the home she found the baby gone. Her lawyer traced the little one to its foster parents. Then he applied in the Burleigh county district court for a writ of habeas corpus to recover the child.

The case came up for hearing yesterday, with both mothers in court.

The only mother the babe has ever known sat with the little one who was the central figure in the drama clasped tightly in her arms, as she rocked to and fro, fraught with emotion. In another part of the court room sat the child's mother, straining her eyes for a glimpse of the beautiful bit of childhood whom she had borne and abandoned. And surrounding each litigant was a party of sympathetic friends.

Because of certain features of the case, it is probable the supreme court will be asked to assume original jurisdiction or to name a referee. For this reason Judge Nuessle yesterday continued the case until the attorney for Hanna Eastwood can determine his course.

PATRIOTIC MASS MEETING TO BOOST LIBERTY LOAN

Stutsman County Expects to Get Behind Its $100,000 Share of Bonds

Jamestown, N. D., May 23.—Judge J. A. Coffey today announced that the June term of district court will be convened in the Stutsman county courthouse here Monday, June 18. The criminal calendar is rather light for the coming term, but many civil cases are scheduled for trial.

Probably the most interesting case to be tried is that of the Stutsman County bank of Courtenay vs. William Jones. It is alleged that the bank holds notes against Jones which he never he did not sign. The case was tried here some time ago, before Judge Nuessle of Bismarck, and Jones awarded a decision. It was appealed to the supreme court and a new trial ordered. Judge Coffey voluntarily refuses to sit on the case and an outside judge must be called.

Puts Out Fire; Starts for Aid; Relights Blaze

Dunn Center, N. D., May 23.—Rushing to town to procure medical attendance for Gunder Pletan, whose hands had been badly burned in extinguishing a fire kindled in the cushions of Ed Pletan's Ford by a box of matches, the latter drove so fast that the breeze again fanned the smoldering sparks into flame, and he was forced to stop at a creek and immerse the machine bodily.

No North Dakota Stunt

It is not believed that Michigan will witness a repetition of the North Dakota proposition for two reasons. First, the Michigan farmer has been well able to look after his interests politically and has been liberally represented in the legislature. Secondly, it will be exceedingly difficult to bring the thousands and thousands of voters in the cities—the men who are not affiliated with labor organizations—into the proposed combination.

MICHIGAN FARMERS DECLINE TO "FALL" FOR LEAGUE PLAN

Effort of Labor Leaders to Make Catspaw of Agriculturists Defeated

EIGHT-HOUR DAY FOR FARM-HANDS PROMISED

(Special Lansing Correspondence of the Detroit Saturday Night)

Lansing, Mich., May 23.—The two big farmers' organization of the state—the Grange and the Gleaners—do not propose to be used as catspaws to pull from the fire the political chestnuts of the labor leaders of Michigan, and as a result of the failure of the agriculturalists to enter into a political combination with the trade unionists, there is little reason to believe that the effort to "North Dakotaize" this state will bear fruit.

On the closing day of the legislature, a widely advertised conference was held in Lansing. The meeting was called by Perry Ward of Detroit, secretary of the Michigan Federation of Labor, for the purpose of assembling the leading agriculturists in a conference with the labor unions, to organize the Workingmen's Non-Partisan Voters' League. T-3 JA3H

Meeting One-Sided

As the meeting turned out it was a rather one-sided affair. Approximately fifty labor leader and Judge Jeffries of Detroit were on hand when Claude Taylor, president of the Michigan Federation of Labor, called the meeting to order. Not a single farmer had responded to the clarion call of the labor leaders. Either the farmers were too busy making ready to plant their crops or else they suspected something.

The efforts of Judge Jeffries and the various labor delegates to convince the farmers that the last legislature was lined up solidly against the farmer and the laborer alike are humorous when a glance over the roll call discloses the fact that the agricultural districts practically controlled the 1917 assembly.

Consequently the charge of the labor leaders that the farmers were cheated by the legislature does not interest the rural politicians, who have their minds on six-dollar beans and two-dollar potatoes.

Grange Man Opposed

After the conference of farmers and trades unionists had been going on for some time without the farmers, C. H. Bramble, an officer of the State Grange, appeared.

In a remarkably short time, however, he informed the labor delegates that the farmers were not interested in any political schemes and declared most emphatically that the present is no time to consider the formation of any new political party.

Will Fight for Principles

The Grange, declared Bramble, will fight for principles but is not interested in candidates or political parties, and he intimated that in regard to any plan whereby the farmers and labor unions could be brought together for the purpose of attempting to control the legislature, the State Grange could be counted out.

Politically, the farmer have things well in hand in the state legislature, and they have everything to lose and nothing to gain by entering into a combination with the Michigan Federation of Labor a political allied interest.

Organizing Hired Men

"The first thing we know the unions will have our hired men organized and will insist upon an eight-hour day for all farm labor," said a prominent farmer in discussing the conference. "We can get what we want from the legislature and will help the union men when they have meritorious bills, there is no advantage for us to enter into a political alliance with the unions."

To elect a complete state ticket from governor to coroner composed of men pledged to carry out the program of the labor leaders will be the plan of the Non-Partisan League, which the union men will form without the assistance of the farmers, if the men from the rural districts cannot be coaxed into the deal.

SETTING-UP EXERCISES DEVELOP THIGH MUSCLES, SAYS JIM RICE

Perhaps the muscles in front of the thigh are of more importance in walking than are those of the calf. Except in the heel-and-toe style of walking the thighs have far more to do than the calves.

This is the simplest known way to develop the frontal muscles of the thigh.

Stand with the feet six inches apart with the toes out. Have your shoulders thrown well back and your chin in the air. Then by bending your knees drop vertically as fast as you can. In the army this is known as the "full-bend" setting-up exercise.

At first you probably will not be able to do this more than half a dozen times. But with steady practice you can do it at first fifty and then a hundred times.

All the time your leg will be getting bigger so that at the end of three months you will have added three inches to the circumference of your thighs at the thickest part.

Gen. Leonard Wood of the United States army declares the nation's need today is physical training for all inhabitants and endorses the articles by Coach Jim Rice, physical advisor employed by The Tribune to teach readers how to become physically fit.

A more severe exercise than this is to stand on one foot with the other sticking out in front and then to lower and raise the body. Very few men can do this, but by sticking at today's first exercise long enough there is no reason why every man should not be able to do it. Exercises similar to this have been adopted as the standard in the U. S. army.

I had an old man a few years ago who had a magnificent development of the arms, shoulders and chest. But his thighs were all out of proportion to the rest of his body. He was built something like Bob Fitzsimmons. Yet by following out these leg exercises for five months he added 3½ inches to his thighs.

Good stiff walking and hopping, first on one foot and then on the other, will work wonders in adding to the muscles of the legs.

Just One Thing After Another in Life of Dave Delaney, Bank Cashier

Belfield, N. D., May 23.—When arrested for driving a car not equipped with license tags, David Delaney, assistant cashier of the Amidon State bank, and Elmer Petrich, postmaster at Zenith, produced tags from underneath the seat of their car. Later Delaney was so interested in telling Judge Cody of his experiences that he parked his car on the wrong side of the street and again found himself in the toils of the law. Then Delaney left town, declaring Belfield too blamed metropolitan to suit him.

Enthusiastic Farewell to Recently Enlisted Members—Co. K Gets Results

Dickinson, N. D., May 23.—A mass meeting, called by Major Osborn on Monday afternoon, for Monday evening, resulted in three recruits for Co. K. The occasion of the meeting was a farewell demonstration for some five or six Hallday boys who left Tuesday for Missoula, Mont., to join Co. K. The meeting was followed by a smoker by the Commercial club, at the club rooms, in honor of the new recruits. Patriotic talks were delivered by Rev. Dignam, Rev. R. H. Craig, Rev. Dilling, Judge Crawford, Capt. L. R. Baird and Major Osborn, the latter acting as chairman of the meeting. Music was furnished by the Dickinson drum corps, of which Register of Deeds John Leask and W. R. Everett are the leaders. Several patriotic selections were rendered by the audience, music being furnished by Miss Babcock of the Dickinson high school.

Three new recruits joined Co. K, they being Louis S. Metz, Frank Rung and John Miller, all from the south side.

KILLING RESULT OF QUARREL OVER OLD LOVE AFFAIR

Lehman, Alleged Slayer of Wetzstein, Had Paid Court to Latter's Wife

LESLIE SIMPSON WILL DEFEND ACCUSED MAN

Prisoner Has Money and Father
Is Wealthy Retired Farmer
at St. Paul

(Special to Tribune.)

Dickinson, N. D., May 23.—Further details of Richardson's Sunday killing, the second alleged murder which that peaceful little village has witnessed within a fortnight, slowly are leaking out from the testimony of eye-witnesses of the tragedy.

The murdered man today rests in an untimely grave. The wife and mother of the victim, through no fault of her own other than the fact that she proved equally attractive to two men and could wed but one of them, is again in the Dickinson hospital, where she left her bed Sunday evening to hasten to the home of her dying husband. The alleged slayer is in the county jail here, in a cell adjoining that occupied by Mike Chamak who less than twenty days ago startled the quiet community of Richardson by slaying Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Caldwell.

STORY OF KILLING
Wetzstein had been in Dickinson and had left his wife at a local hospital for treatment, returning home on No. 2 Sunday afternoon. Arriving there he went to the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Darling. A few minutes later he went to the barn, and soon came running back to the house saying to Mrs. Darling that Adolph Lehman was after him with a gun. A few seconds after this Lehman did appear, it is alleged, at the house with a drawn gun, shouting, it is said, that he would kill Wetzstein. Wetzstein ran into a bedroom where Mrs. Darling was, and the two tried to hold the door of the bedroom

TWO SONS OF T. R. TRAIN AS OFFICERS

The Plattsburg (N. Y.) training camp has many prominent citizens taking the course to become officers in the army, including two sons of Colonel Roosevelt, who wants to lead a division to France. Picture shows, left to right, Archie Roosevelt, Lieut. H. B. Barnes and Major Teddy Roosevelt, Jr.

closed so that Lehman could not get in. When Lehman saw that he was unable to open the door against the combined efforts of Mrs. Darling and Wetzstein he is alleged to have fired five shots through the bedroom door, and in this shot off one of Wetzstein's fingers. Mrs. Darling tried to parley with him and finally had him consent to leave the house, but threatening that he would get Wetzstein any way. When Mrs. Darling went to another room Lehman jumped back into the bedroom and shot Wetzstein through the body, and breaking a window at the other side of the house, escaped on a saddle horse which was ready and waiting nearby. He went as far as Taylor, when seeing that he was being followed by a car of Richardson parties, he gave himself up to the marshal at Taylor, Henry Necht, who brought him to Dickinson at once.

Made Dying Statement
Wetzstein lived for about two hours after he was shot, and made a statement before he died, which was taken down by C. C. Hill, and witnessed by other parties at the house at the time. Mrs. Wetzstein was at Dickinson in the hospital and upon being notified of the murder of her husband, she left for Richardson early Sunday morning, accompanied by her brother, Clyde Darling, who is the Northern Pacific pump man at the dyke west of town.

The trouble was of long standing, and is reported to have been over Mrs. Wetzstein, formerly Miss Darling. Lehman was on friendly terms with Mrs. Wetzstein before she was married, and Wetzstein, who was then paying attention to her, objected to their close friendship. Lehman claims he has letters in his possession now in which Wetzstein threatened to kill him.

Prominent Leaguer
Wetzstein was a homesteader in Dunn county and for several seasons he was elected assessor of his commissioners district. Last summer and this year he was working for the Non-partisan league and was absent from home quite a bit. His first wife died about two years ago, and he was again married last summer at Richardson.

Lehman is the youngest son of W. Lehman, now living at St. Paul, Minn., but was formerly a well-to-do farmer of the Richardson vicinity.

Young Lehman owns a large farm near Richardson. Lehman is now in jail, and his brother, Paul, also of Richardson, and his father are consulting with his attorney, Senator L. A. Simpson, about the action to be taken at the trial, which will most likely not be held until next December.

CHAMAK REMOVED TO JAIL.

Mike Chamak, slayer of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Caldwell, was this week removed from the hospital to the county jail, where he is now keeping company with Adolph Lehman, the alleged Richardson murderer.

COMBAT SUBS BY AIR POWER SAYS PEARY

Aerial Coast Patrol Units Are Invaluable in Seeking Out

Submersibles

By Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary

Washington, D. C., May 23.—Sea-planes, small dirigibles on the order of the English "Blimp" type, and kite balloons, constitute an air power which can combat the submarine menace better than any other war agency worked out up to the present time.

Aircraft are more effective in detecting and destroying submarines than are submarine chasers or armed liners. Under favorable conditions of wind and weather the submarine is as helpless with an aircraft as it is with a torpedo.

Not only have the British, French, German and Turkish forces destroyed submarines, trawlers, patrol boats and transports by aircraft, but our own air forces have engaged in successful experiments in submarine hunting.

In September, 1916, our first aerial coast patrol unit, acting as an auxiliary to the mosquito squadron in the annual maneuvers of the Atlantic fleet, detected objects smaller than the latest type German submersibles from 15 to 20 feet below the surface. This unit has since been taken over bodily by the navy.

When Lawrence Sperry went out to sea one day last summer in his hydroplane and failed to return, two seaplanes and three naval destroyers were sent in search of him. In 40 minutes the seaplanes returned with the news that they had located Sperry floating safely in the water. At the end of the day, the destroyers came back without having seen Sperry at all.

A large number of the big flying boats now in use in the British navy for harbor and coast defense work are Curtiss machines, designed and built in this country by Americans with American material and American engines.

Great Britain wants all the machines of this type, she can get and sees no reason why we cannot do the same thing in protecting our own Atlantic seaboard.

Another measure we ought to take against the U-boats in addition to each armed merchantman of one or two armed seaplanes. A large merchantman could carry two seaplanes. A smaller merchantman, of from 2,000 to 4,000 tons, could carry one. These seaplanes could be launched at intervals and in the danger zone could cut circles round the merchantman scouting for enemy submarines.

to their patriotic devotion will be appropriately rendered.

"A report of exercises held in compliance with the foregoing instructions will be forwarded to the adjutant general with the monthly report of attendance of drills for May."

Local Observance

An unusually impressive observance of Memorial day is planned in Bismarck, which is more than ordinarily war-like with Camp Frazier in full blast, and Fort Lincoln soon to be peopled with several thousand troops. Secretary Keniston of the Commercial club has invited one of the most prominent men in the Slope to deliver the Memorial address.

ELABORATE OBSERVANCE PLANNED FOR BISMARCK

Memorial Day for North Dakota possesses more than ordinary significance this year. With this fact in view, Governor Lynn J. Frazier has issued through Adjutant General T. M. Tharalson and Major R. R.
